

TTRS – guide for finding and using the Heatmap

Select My Stats from the drop down menu found at your Rock Star's name

You will be brought to this page:

When you scroll further down, you will be able to see how quickly your child can answer each times table fact.

The Heatmap can be used to identify where your child needs more practice with their times tables. The colours show the speed at which your child answers the times table fact.

Red indicates that they need more practice and it is taking a while to recall the fact.

The shades of green show that they are able to recall the fact in good time.

Grey means they haven't been presented with this times table to answer yet.
